Gayment

First system of musical notation. It consists of two staves. The top staff has a treble clef and a key signature of two sharps (F# and C#). The bottom staff has a bass clef and the same key signature. Both staves contain a sequence of eighth notes with slurs. There are two plus signs (+) above the staves: one above the first measure of the top staff and one above the first measure of the bottom staff. There are also two fermatas (z) above the staves: one above the second measure of the top staff and one above the second measure of the bottom staff.

Second system of musical notation. It consists of two staves with the same clefs and key signature as the first system. The notation continues with eighth notes and slurs. There are four plus signs (+) above the staves: one above the second measure of the top staff, one above the third measure of the bottom staff, and two above the fourth measure of the top staff. There are also two fermatas (z) above the staves: one above the second measure of the bottom staff and one above the fourth measure of the bottom staff.

Third system of musical notation. It consists of two staves with the same clefs and key signature. The notation continues with eighth notes and slurs. There is one plus sign (+) above the first measure of the top staff. There are three fermatas (z) above the staves: one above the second measure of the top staff, one above the second measure of the bottom staff, and one above the third measure of the bottom staff.

Fourth system of musical notation. It consists of two staves with the same clefs and key signature. The notation continues with eighth notes and slurs. There are two plus signs (+) above the staves: one above the fourth measure of the top staff and one above the fourth measure of the bottom staff. There are also two fermatas (z) above the staves: one above the second measure of the top staff and one above the second measure of the bottom staff. The system ends with a double bar line and repeat dots.
