I heard them engines running on the road away from home

Sounds like thunder calling out my name

I listened hard the first time that I heard them roll along

Am D G
I listened and I've never been the same

CHORUS

Highways just a two-lane road connecting either way
I've seen enough of this end for awhile
I've got to go the distance til I know I see a change
I've got to know the feel of every mile

Well I feel my mine it's aching full of everywhere I've been
I turn my face around the other way
I'll meet you at the mailbox, and I'll read you all my cards
Tell you what I really meant to say
